

WHITEHEAD MAY RUN AS G. O. P. DELEGATE TO NAT'L CONVENTION

With election but little more than two months away, discussion has arisen as to who will represent the first congressional district which includes Rock county at the national political convention in June.

The name of John M. Whitehead, this city, former state senator, has been mentioned as a candidate for delegate to the Republican convention in Chicago to represent this district which comprises the counties of Racine, Rock, Kenosha, Walworth and Waukesha.

As a possibility for the other candidate, Fred Lockney, Waukegan, has been suggested.

It will be remembered that Mr. Whitehead was a pronounced anti-Lafollette man in the state senate several years ago while Mr. Lockney was a prominent member of the senior senator's staff. The two men have been disagreed at times on legislation and public policy questions but today they meet on common ground, believing that Whitehead should see an unfrustrated delegation to the Republican convention.

Mention of these two men as candidates has been made by the La Follette plan to elect delegates who would be pledged to vote for a certain candidate.

KEEP HYDRANTS FREE, OFFICIALS' WARNING

A warning to citizens against obstructing fire hydrants by throwing snow or rubbish around them was sounded today by Supt. H. A. Griffler of the water department. Chief Con. Murphy who drew attention to the city ordinance which provides a fine of from $1 to $50 for any person guilty of covering, obstructing or opening a hydrant.

"A number of fire hydrants throughout the city have been found covered with snow thrown on them by people shoveling their walks," said Mr. Griffler. "It is important that these be free from obstructions."

In one case today city officials had to order cutting away of bushes which surrounded a hydrant.

BIDDING HOT AT PARKER HOG SALE

Red-hot bidding featured the early hours of the semi-annual Duroc sow sale of E. H. Parker & Son at the fair grounds this afternoon. The top price for the first pair was $1,000, which was bid for one of the best sows the Rock county breeders had to offer.

Nearly 400 breeders representing all sections of the middle west were in attendance, packing the pavilion to capacity. Lunch was served at the fair grounds this afternoon.

Prices in the early hours led to the belief that the total sum realized would exceed that of previous Duroc sales here.

Mr. Parker will go to Madison tomorrow, where he will attend the sale of M. H. O'Keefe. Other Duroc sales in the future are the Vander County sale at Verona, Feb. 1, and the Rock County Combination sale here, Feb. 19.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

Every Day Science for Boy Mechanics

UNDER THE PAYMENT

By Grant B. Hyde. "I saw a man working at a machine cover in the street today, Daddy. And down in the hole there was room and another man fixing something. Is there a room under every manhole in the street? What was the man using a pump for?"

"The pump was to send in fresh air to keep the man inside from being suffocated by sewer gas, while he fixed the pipes or cleaned the sewer. That's what manholes are for."

"Although you perhaps do not know it, there is under a city street a large city, it sometimes tunnels in which you can walk for blocks. When they build a subway-railroad in a large city, it sometimes takes longer to untangle the underground than to dig the subway. The manholes are needed to fix the pipes because the pavement must be two feet thick—solid mass of rock, cement, or other material, with asphalt, wood, or bricks on top."

"Under the pavement, there is always a service sewer, big clay pipe to carry sewage from buildings—with a branch or lateral leading to each building. Here to the storm-sewer, perhaps a concrete tunnel, to take away water when it rains. There is a water main in large oak pipes with small lead pipe laterals for each building. The gas company has mains, too, with house laterals. In some cities telephone cables are placed underground, and in a few cities steam or refrigerator pipes carry heat or cold to customers. All are down at least four feet to be below the frost line.

"In our city, where most of the pipes are owned by the city, the system is simple. Each city like New York or Boston, where there are many separate companies, there is a veritable network of private pipe-lines. It is hard to tell in some cities, if a downtown block were filled with costly automobiles, their value would not equal the money represented by the pipes running under the pavement on which they are parked."

Dollar-Making Ideas

SELLING OLD-FASHIONED COOKING

By Belle C. Harrington. Old-fashioned cooking is always in demand. Father longs for the dishes he used to eat when a boy, but high-priced cook cannot or will not make them.

Here are three cheap, easy things, which always sell.

1. Boiled white or yellow corn in the ear. Shell it. For every gallon of corn take one of water containing one tablespoonful of concentrated lye. Boil the corn in this water until the outer skin and the black speck at the tip of the kernel come off easily, when rubbed between the thumb and finger.

Put the corn under the faucet for 15 minutes, rubbing and stirring the corn occasionally, until the hulls are off. Cover with fresh water and boil four or five hours, adding a heaping tablespoonful of salt for every gallon of corn. Put in the salt one-half hour before it is done. Deliver the corn the moment it is cooked.

Cornmeal Mush for frying is best made of granulated yellow meal. Add a tablespoonful of salt to a gallon of water, when boiling, stir in the cornmeal slowly, stirring all the time. Stop adding meal while the mixture is still quite thin. Boil for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Don't have your fire too hot or it will spatter. If there are lumps in it add one cup of cold water and stir briskly. At the end of 10 minutes, stir over it one-half cup of white flour, stir thoroughly and push to the back of the stove for another 10 minutes. Pour into long narrow tins and set away to cool.

Cottage Cheese is easier to make in warm climates, because the milk then sours more readily. Let the milk sour in crocks or pans only one-half full. When it is firm like jelly, pour an equal amount of water and add a little salt. Stir the curd into the whey to break it up. Put in a colander to drain and cool. When cold, press out any remaining whey with the hands, mix salt through it, and pack it into a crock or jar.

Rollin Rhinehart, aged 40, a grinder of Beloit, secured a divorce from Alfreda J. Rhinehart, 32, 4111 S. 1st, yesterday, in circuit court here.

500,000 RIDE ON LOCAL STREET CARS IN YEAR; NO PROFIT

A half million passengers were carried by street cars in Janesville last year, or nearly twice as many as were transported during 1918, revenues totaling $38,517 during 1919, according to the yearly report of the Janesville Traction company, which of which has been given to Mayor Welsh by Supt. Abe Doherty.

The report substantiates promises of the company for better service during 1920 as it is believed when the system is finally put on a paying basis no expense will be spared to provide more and improved cars with an extension of lines if necessary. The utility has already promised 12-minute service and a 10-minute schedule with the completion of the Jackson street bridge.

Although the company operated at a net loss of $6,853 last year when interest on debt is figured with expenses, the loss was 23 percent less than in 1918.

The total number of passengers carried during 1919 was 510,000, which includes 459,046 revenue passengers and 21,354 transfers. The growth of the city and its resultant increase in street car lines is reflected in figures for 1918 which show a total of 238,791 passengers carried of which 226,302 paid the fare and 12,489 were transfers. The total number of miles traveled by cars was 199,306, or 56,000 more than in 1918.

In giving the company's income the report cites the gross earnings as $38,517 as against $20,618 in 1918. Operating expenses which increased from $20,747 in 1918 to $24,333 last year, prevented the company from realizing a profit.

The most noticeable difference is seen in a comparison of passengers carried during December of the two years: 1919, 64,786; and 1918, 18,273.

With a total capital stock of $175,000 the local plant is valued at $247,064 with other resources amounting to $3,154. In addition to its capital the company has debt aggregating close to $100,000. No dividends were paid during either year.

12 ATTEND CLERKS' MEETING; NO ACTION

No action was taken by the retail clerks, of which there were 12, at the meeting held last evening in the East Side Odd Fellows' hall. When asked how many members had been elected to organize a retail clerks' union in this city, six clerk, two of them women, signified that they were in favor of organizing.

Henry Orl, representative of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor, spoke at length on the benefits of collective action which he thought would be obtained without organization. He brought out Mr. Orl said if the clerks left the meeting without organizing they would be signing to their employers that they were satisfied with conditions, and were willing to work Wednesday afternoons. Blanks of application to the union were passed out and it was suggested to hold another retail clerks' meeting Monday or Tuesday evening next week.

Frank Eiler, at one time president of the retail clerks' union when it was organized in this city more than ten years ago, stated that he was able to draw clerks of clothing stores or women and in his opinion it had never been able to do the work for what it was intended.

OLDER GIRLS' COUNCIL IS ORGANIZED HERE

Initiative steps were taken last evening to form what is known as the Janesville Older Girls' council. Representatives from girls' classes from throughout the city met with Miss Mabel Bailey of the state Sunday school association at the Baptist church. A plan of organization was presented and the following officers were elected: president, Miss Esther Pfeiffer; vice president, Miss Ella Jacobs; secretary and treasurer, Miss Mabel Bailey.

The council will be composed of two representatives from each organized girls' class and an adult organizer from each church. Various activities were outlined under the leadership of this council. A program of the Fourth Local of Janesville is assured. Similar organizations are being formed throughout Wisconsin and these plans will be used in other communities.

THE LEOPARD CHANGES HIS SPOTS.

There has been a good deal of curiosity as to the explanations that would be offered by Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, the self-styled "ambassador to the United States from the soviet republic of Russia," for his well-known extensive activities in this country. In the first place, he has no diplomatic status whatever. Our government recognizes no soviet republic. Indeed, at the very time this pseudo envoy opened his elaborate offices in New York and announced that he was the official representative of Russia, and for some time thereafter, United States soldiers were actually engaged in fighting the bolshevik army. The anomaly would have been absurd had it not been so potentially serious.

Martens told the senate committee that the soviet republic no longer has any interest in changing the form of government of other countries and that he is not here as an agitator or a missionary. That is to say, bolshevism has entirely reformed. He is here for two purposes: To influence public opinion in behalf of recognition of the bolshevik government, and to boom business with his country. And he dangles the bait of half a billion in gold to be spent in foreign trade.

This sounds plausible until Martens is confronted with the written and printed record of his soviet government, its manifestos calling on revolutionary elements everywhere to revolt against all organized governments, and the proven connection between Russian bolsheviks and plots against American institutions. To all this he has one answer: The leopard has changed his spots. He has taken a leaf from the book of some other anarchists recently in the public eye who, confronted with the record of their incendiary utterances, declared all that belonged to the past and that they no longer subscribed to the dangerous doctrines.

It is impossible to believe in this rapid-fire conversion. Martens' acknowledgment of his acquaintance with revolutionary movements in the United States, together with his known possession of enormous funds to be used at his own discretion, can hardly be regarded as reassuring.

"NO PLACE FOR A LADY"

Chicago's board of aldermen has voted against young women stenographers because, as one member declared, "A council committee room, where the aldermen meet informally to discuss civil measures, is no place for a lady."

Unwittingly, the city legislator has given the key to what is the matter with administration in a number of American cities. Council and conference rooms are made the battleground for feudism that often sinks to the basest levels of personal retribution. In the heat of argument men otherwise peaceable, law-abiding and dignified, give way to passion and violent talk. Truly, the average council room from coast to coast is often "no place for a lady."

What the Chicago aldermen have lost sight of is that if their deliberations are "no place for a lady," they are no place for a gentleman. There is no double standard of decency. Undoubtedly there are reasonable objections to the employment of young women in certain occupations, but officials should blush for shame to admit that they do not want to restrain their native privilege of making fools and barbarians of themselves.

The meetings of men in business councils are not ordinarily such as a woman would find uncomfortable. The business of a great city should command added dignity because of the responsibility that goes with office. The restraining and refining influence of young American womanhood might have prevented many disgraceful squabbles in the experience of the average municipality.

THE RETURN OF THE DEAD.

In dispatching a new note to France insisting upon permission for the early return of America's soldier dead, the state department has the unqualified support not only of the fathers and mothers of the boys who died overseas, but of all citizens.

Much attention has been given to the publication of a poll of bereaved families which showed that of 74,770, there were 43,000, or 57 percent, who requested the return of bodies to the United States. These figures mean little. Were there only 4,000, 400 or four, who desired that their kin should be returned to them, their expression would be a mandate that the government could not deny. The justice of the demand for the return of the bodies of these heroes depends not upon the strength of numbers, but upon the prerogative of the individual. The body should be brought back of every soldier whose family expresses that desire, and the government is not merely justified in taking drastic measures to fulfill their will, but it is in duty bound to exert whatever pressure may be necessary to accomplish that purpose.

Doubtless when the French government is made to understand how deeply many American fathers and mothers feel upon this subject, there will be no further obstruction.

WHAT THE WORLD WANTS.

The world is waiting for the man Who'll gladly do the hard work; It has high salary to pay To him who is content to stay Upon the job, and labor on Until he knows his work is done.

The world is seeking hard to find The worker who will do his share; And he who is merely plucky and skill Who'll use his brain, and work until The finished task at last he sees Before he wants to be at ease.

The world has high reward to give To him who does not want to live As one who merely drifts along; And fears to breast the current strong; It wants a youth of sparkling eye, Who sees a goal and dares to try.

The world pays well for men of brains And honest toil and taming pains; 'Twill lift above the common lot Of "didn't think" and "I forgot." The man who, in a time of need, Can well be trusted with the deed.

The world is waiting for the man Who'll look ahead and think and plan And feel no more the need of pain; That he is where he's needed most, For such a man there's work to do— And boy, it might as well be you.

Screen Crimes

Washington, Jan. 30.—Gentlemen, the movies are not the place of the criminal. They are the place of the criminal. They are the place of the criminal. They are the place of the criminal.

When such characters become heroes of romance, and it is widely advertised that they display their methods in the latest play, Oklahoma gets a bad name. The criminal in real life is no more dashing than a grocer or a blacksmith. He is a creature of the real world, and he is a creature of the real world. He is a creature of the real world, and he is a creature of the real world.

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT

ROY E. MOULTON

THE PIRATE

The pirate of old Went forth for gold, And sailed on a perilous deck. By the old Davy Jones, He got it and came by the peck.

The old pirate chief Was a picturesque thief, Who never would stoop to disguise. In the open he fought, And when it chanced that he caught A strange ship that looked like a prize.

The pirate today Has a different way; He does not fare forth on the sea. With an axe or a knife To fight for his life, A smooth proposition is he.

He knows in advance That he takes no chance Of facing a ship or the rack. For legal advice He has paid a long price; His victim can never fight back.

Without the least fear His turn comes, And corners a thing people need, Or some storied scheme That sounds like a dream. "Get the dough," is his undying creed.

The pirate of old, If the truth should be told, Was an honest old thief in a way. He was surely a gent, With a sincere intent. When compared with the pirate today.

Every man in Poland is to have a free haircut at the expense of the government. The only way you can do that in this country is to go to Port Leavenworth or Atlanta.

Meterlitch will find plenty of blue birds in this country—those birds whose cellars are nearly dry.

As long as Christmas confessions are in order we will confess that we received 12 presents—six pairs of socks.

One judge says he will punish automobile offenders with long sentences. Perhaps he will read their something from Henry James.

COLD WEATHER, ISN'T IT? Dear Roy—in the theater I he other night my neighbor mentioned with the price that he was to appear in the coming publication of "Who's Who."

"Well," quickly remarked a friend of his, "I suppose you're in Russia. I suppose you're appearing in 'Vitch is Vitch.'"

One of the intense surprises of the year is the announcement that Mr. Bryan may be a candidate for the presidency.

FATHER, DEAR FATHER, COME HOME WITH ME NOW. The building formerly known as the "Vitch is Vitch" is now for rent. Owners will remodel same to suit responsible tenant. A splendid place to keep cows and chickens. Inquire at street car office.—Centralia (Ill.) Sentinel.

Nothing much to swear off this time except your taxes.

It's a long lane who has no turn—to resign.

SOME WIVES HAVE 'EM, TOO. Dear Roy—Advising you that a Harlem theater advertised as follows: "CHOOSING A WIFE WITH AN ALL-STAR CAST!"

Macey J. Markov.

Well, 1919 did her worst, but she didn't quite knock us out.

Three Important Points

The banks have had a good deal to say about saving money. Maybe we have said too much on that point.
The point is, people are not likely to have money to save unless they earn all they can and spend a part of their money carefully.

It is very easy in these days of high prices to spend every cent of one's income.
But skillful spending is a very important quality in any one who wants to win success.

If you want to gain in wealth you will do well to keep these three points in mind:

Earn all you can.

Spend sensibly and

Save a reasonable part of all you earn.

There is no other way to win.

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
Chicago, Jan. 30.—Absence of selling pressure, together with the fact that offerings were unusually light, led to a recovery in the price of corn, January and February delivers. In particular showed strength.
Continued meagerness of receipts and the lack of any accumulation of corn in stock here gave considerable advantage to bulls. Opening at 100 1/2, which ranged from a shade to 2c higher, with May $1.36 to $1.38 and July $1.33 to $1.35, were followed by moderate further gains.
Data hardened with corn. After opening a shade to 1c higher, the market May at $2.42 to $2.43, the market scored a slight further advance.
Provisions were firm, helped by the strength of grain.
In the last hour reports of a Canadian embargo on grain and bound shipments of grain induced a bearish reaction. The close was unsettled, ranging from a decline to 2c advance, with May $1.35 1/2 to $1.36 and July $1.32 1/2 to $1.34.

MAN WASTE; WOMAN IS MORE STABLE; ELEMENT

An interesting thesis was presented before the Academy of Science, bearing on recent experiments in studying on animals which have been carried out by certain specialists among the insects known as one of the scientists holds that this operation proves that there is no doubt that woman is biologically superior to man. It is known that among certain insects eggs insur-ficiently nourished produce male specimens, while normal eggs produce females. Again, among animals the male species, despite its physical beauty, is generally smaller and less resistant. There is something in his nature and attributes that makes him more fragile and less robust than the female.

Therefore, according to the general law of embryology, it must be concluded that the female represents the more stable element of our race while man is, nothing but a waste product.

The opinions of the members of the academy on these deductions have not yet been recorded.

London.—Women were put up do the collecting in the hope that if caught they would get off with small fines, said a police inspector in prosecuting a betting case.

Crooked Trails and Straight

By William MacLeod Raine

"A man happened to come along San Miguel street just as the robber swung to the door. He heard the cries of the men inside, and he was doing, and exchanged shots with the miscreant. He shot this hat off the fellow's head."

"Who was the man that shot the robber?"

"Chas. Fendrick."

"But he didn't claim to recognize the holdup?"

"Not for certain. He guessed a man whose initials are the same as those in that hat."

"If you mean Luck Cullison, it's a lie," he exploded. "He's a law-abiding citizen. He was furious with himself for not feeling that he had been unsuspectingly helping to certify the clowns of the sheriff. Like an idiot, he had let out much that told heavily against his friend."

"I hope so. What about this hat, observed that the two holes shot through the rim?"

"So! We all wear hats just like that. Look at mine," Billie held it out eagerly.

"That's an L. C. stamped in the sweat band?" Bolt asked with a smile.

"I know you ain't his friend, Nick. But you want to be fair to him even if he did oppose your election." MacKenzie laid an appealing hand on the knee of the man seated opposite him.

"If recollect so," MacKenzie drew from his pocket the roll Cullison had given him two hours before. He peeled five twenties from it. The sheriff, who was sitting at the desk, looked at the money with a frown. "Get these from Luck?" he asked.

"Yes," the cattleman stared at him, and the suspicion grew on him that he had been trapped again.

"Why do you ask?"

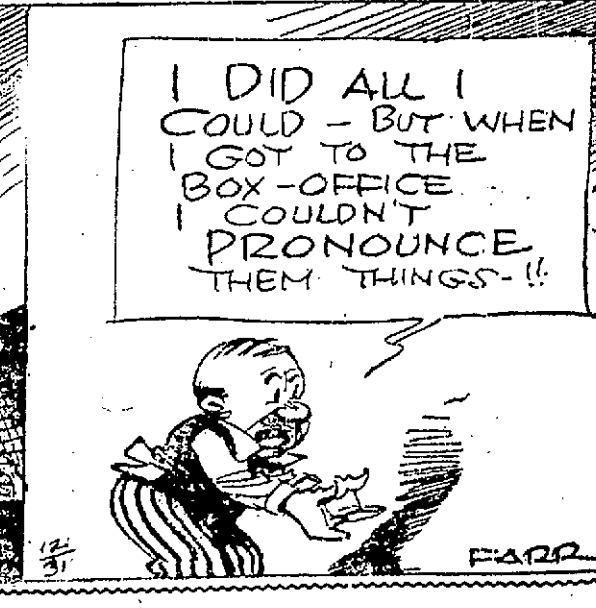

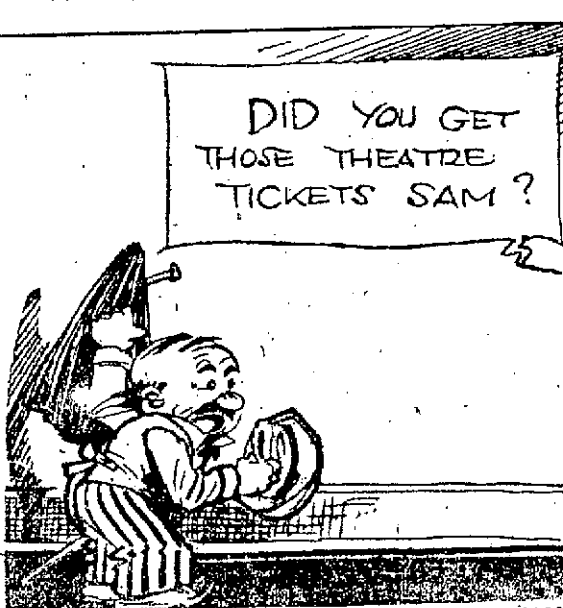

"Because it happens the bills stolen from the W. & S. were all twenties."

From the office of the sheriff, MacKenzie wandered to the office of Luck Cullison. He was thoroughly dispirited, both dreading to meet Luck, and yet was anxious to do so.

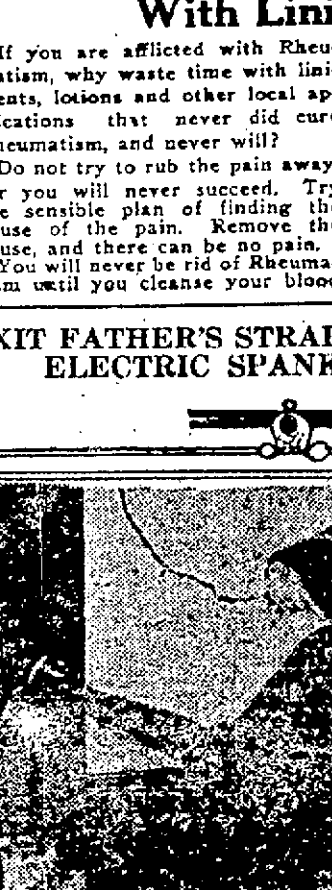

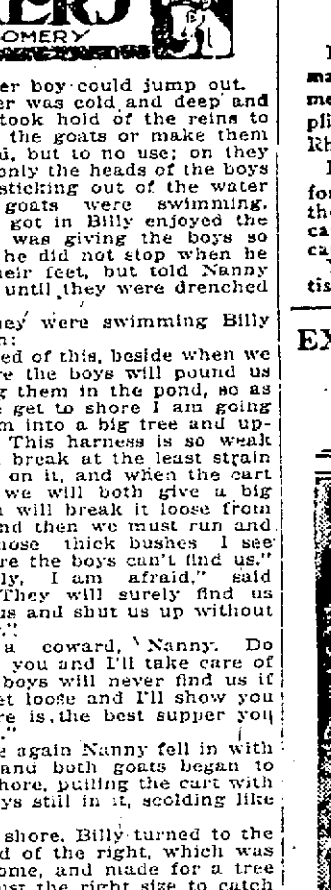

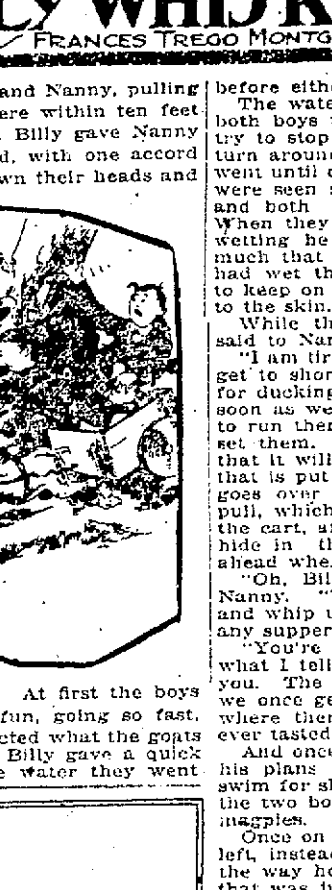

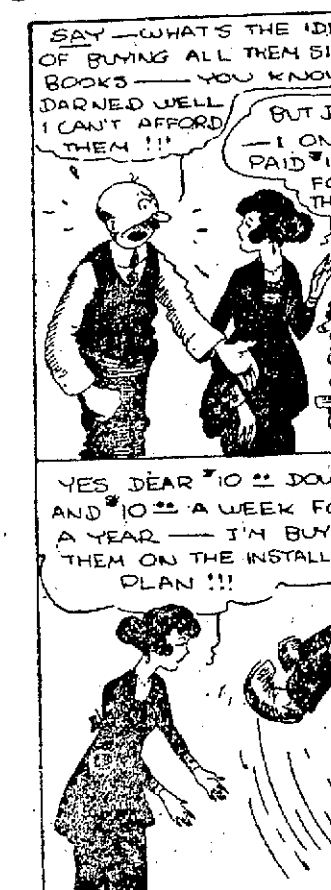

Cullison had been in the search of Luck. He was thoroughly dispirited, both dreading to meet Luck, and yet was anxious to do so.

Dinner Stories

"Weatherstrip Jones," said the recorder, "What an odd name for a man."

"Where are you going to live when you are married, ma'am?"

"In California, ma'am," said Lily.

"In California? Isn't that rather risky? They have so many earthquakes and violent disturbances there, you know."

"The more the merrier, ma'am," was the cheerful answer.

"Lily, you surprise me! What a shocking sentiment!"

"It ain't sentiment, ma'am, but hard facts. My young man's the village reporter and he says that despicable parish meetings and such like nasty things give him the mis-er-ies."

"So he's going to a place where there's more chance of an eruption or a big explosion to give him a rise in the world?"

"I don't want to do anything wrong," said an elderly Shropshire woman who called upon an official of the ministry of food, "but when I die I should like my funeral to be properly carried out."

"That's what you had in mind, I suppose?"

"Yes, I should like to have a fine and shroud, two bottles of whisky and three tins of salmon."

"The cheerful soul was quite pleased when told that she was "on the right side" so long as she did not add to her stock."

"Ah, waiter, tell me, are oysters good?"

"The ones I ate were, mister, but I don't know how you're going to eat them, for they're all good by eating another."

EXIT FATHER'S STRAP AND SLIPPER, FOR ELECTRIC SPANKING MACHINE IS HERE

A practical demonstration of the electric spanker.

An electric spanker that works like a trip hammer is the last word in electrical household devices. It is said to be much more efficient in every way than the old-fashioned slipper or hairbrush. And mother will no longer say that it hurts her as much as it does the culprit when she administers an electric spanking, and the bad boy or girl may expect to get an electric spanker in his or her stocking this Christmas.

PREVENTION IS BEST CURE FOR INFLUENZA SAY PUBLIC AUTHORITIES

Man Marries Against Time To Obtain Fortune of $75,000

CANTON, O.—Determined to win a legacy, which he says amounts to between $50,000 and $75,000, William Bennett Hoffman, 31, a plumber and accountant, recently took out two marriage licenses in the Stark county probate court within 24 hours. The first wedding did not materialize as planned, but Hoffman finally became a bridegroom when he was married to Miss Ida E. Hinton, 23, of Middleburg, by Rev. D. B. Warner, pastor of the United Brethren church. Late the first day of his race with Cupid, Hoffman, with Miss May Gertrude Dean, one of several hundred girls who are said to have answered a matrimonial advertisement in which Hoffman said that a large legacy had been left him by his mother, providing he married by Feb. 1, 1920, applied at the county probate court for a marriage license. The license was issued, and the couple, accompanied by the girl's mother, left the courthouse.

Mrs. William Bennett Hoffman.

In discussing his expected fortune, Hoffman said that the inheritance was left him by his mother and that the will, which provides that he must be married within two years after her death, in order to get the money, was probated in Newark, N. J. He says that two-thirds of the amount is in cash and the remainder is invested in stocks and bonds. He declined to discuss the inheritance further than to say that one of the attorneys who is acting for him is a Canton man. He said that the time limit set in the will would expire Feb. 1.

A Canton minister has since told how he was called to Miss Dean's house to perform the ceremony. "I appeared," said the minister, "right on the dot. In about 15 minutes the bridegroom-to-be appeared. We waited patiently until about 20 minutes of eight, but no bride appeared. One of the guests who had been invited to witness the ceremony remarked that the bride had been preparing her toilet since 4 o'clock in the afternoon."

Change Their Minds

"At this moment the bride-to-be appeared and summoned Mr. Hoffman into an adjoining room. They could be heard arguing and in 10 minutes the bride appeared. The young woman had decided not to be married right away, but on circumstances, I left without receiving a fee."

Hoffman, at the courthouse later.

CHURCH GETS MUSIC AND DANCING LICENSE

London.—To meet the great demand for dancing in his parish, the Rev. John Green, vicar of St. Luke's, New Cotton, applied for and was granted at Norwich a music and dancing license for the church hall.

The vicar said that dancing had almost of necessity become part of the social work in the parish. He had a dancing class of 150 members. It met once a week and he and his wife were present each night to exercise supervision. The members, however, occasionally wanted a dance in which friends might join in at Christmas time, and for this a license was necessary.

His parishioners were of the artisan class, and the fact that they paid fees—$1.25 for twelve lessons from a professional teacher—was real evidence of the demand for this form of recreation.

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestive pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite—cold of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

20c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

Terrific Pace of Cards Bewilders Beloit; Game Marked by Star Playing

(By FRANK SINCLAIR)

Setting a terrific pace that left the Beloit Fairies puffing with bewilderment at the end of the game, the Lakota Cardinals showed the Gateway city last night what real basketball looks like. They came away victors over the Fairbanks-Morse team 20-17, the second win over the Line city this season.

From the start the contest was a whirling, dazzling rush. The Cards, before a crowd of 900 shouting jumping fans, 250 of them from Janesville, got the ball after the first minute of play and kept it for the greater part of the time upon their own side of the court for the rest of the game.

"Kybo" Brumm outjumped Hasbrouck at center on every hop. Not only that, but he came so far out of the class of a "has been" to a marvel that the local fans rooted for him until they were hoarse. Hooking up in smooth fashion with his teammates, Brumm kept the ball in toward the cage from his roving position, adding to that some star guard work by which he held the opposing pivot man to one basket.

Much of the speed of the game was due to the lightning pivot play of Rottie Williams. Dashing down the floor until opposed by some Fairy, he threw on the brakes, stopped dead in his tracks for a second, spun around and passed or shot. His work was so marvelous that the fans kept their eyes upon him more than any other player. He brought four field goals to the Cards.

Dalton and Dermody, guard and forward for the Lakotas, respectively, worked so well too each others hands with Brumm and Williams, that whenever the Beloit boys showed any dangerous sparks the Cards, in with a deadly interference, followed by swift pass-work, Dalton, bounding into the air, stopped many a long pass by city pass with the tips of his fingers.

So hard was the playing, upon both sides, egged on by the clamorous of the gallery for victory, that barrages of fouls were committed. The personals totaled 26, 13 on each side. Very little rough stuff was seen on the floor, except by Zabel, although even he took pains to approach the press table with a guile explanation of how he made the foul. Dalton was put out of four fouls in the second half, while Hasbrouck, while Gharitty and Hasbrouck were in danger of following him because they had three each. Dermody, White and Spengler were the only men of the 13 playing, who did not make personal fouls.

While Beloit got away with the first scoring when almost before the sound of the opening whistle had died away, Phillips crashed the sphere in the cage, the Lakotas pushed themselves into the line, light at once, and stayed there throughout. "Zip" Zabel opened the scoring that gave Janesville its first score, when "Eddie" Dermody made a free throw.

Game Nip and Tuck
From then on the game was nip and tuck. Hardly has there ever been a game more close during every minute of the contest. There were more than six points in the lead and then only for the briefest of periods. With the whistle of foul time shifting from one team to the other, it was not known until the very last minute of play who had won. The score had totaled 17-16 in Beloit's favor. Both teams tightened up with a determination to carry away the honors. Stengler, Madison forward, had been substituted for Stark. Janesville's hopes were black. Then with a brilliant burst of rapid passes, the Cards whizzed the ball down the field into Stengler's waiting hands. Steadily and as cool as if he were standing in ice-water, the Madison man tossed it in to bring the score 17-18. Beloit refused to concede the game, but the Lakotas were not sure they had clinched it. As the timekeeper lifted his gun in anticipation of closing the game, Hasbrouck fouled and then Phillips, giving Dalton two chances for free throws. He made them with ease. The score finished 20-17.

Crippled as they were, the Cards put up a battle that proves them to be the best team in the middle-west. Though they were somewhat slow in the opening minute last night, they threw that trouble off quickly. Short, Martin, brought the Cards back to the cage, for the scrap to play forward, failed to get into the swing with the Janesville boys. Nevertheless he pulled off some great guarding.

Beloit played a wonderful game. When things seemed to be going against them, the Cardinals in brain-work, proved a thorn in the Cards' flesh. With Witte and Tilley back in the field, they put forward a strong front. This combination did much to bust up clever passing by the Cards. It served to interfere at unexpected times, yet the faster speed of Janesville spoiled their plans. This type of playing by the Lakotas made the score 7-11 in Janesville's favor at the end of the first half.

Exciting Second
The second period was the more exciting. "Rottie" Williams whirled into the action immediately, but Witte of the opponents came back and the score stood 9-13 in the Cards favor. Then followed a personal foul on each side to keep the score at the same margin, 10-14. Stark of the Lakotas made a foul which Hasbrouck shot for another point, but the Cards made another field goal for 11-16. Then a burst of speed by the Fairies made two baskets and a free throw on a personal foul put the score 17-15 in Beloit's favor.

All through the evening the crowd had been wild. Packed in until the standing room was at a premium, they used every means known to the roster to help their team win and the enemy lose. Then came the work of Stengler to stop up the game. Lineup and score:

MILTON COLLEGE DROPS TO CARROLL

(By Gazette Correspondent)
Milton, Jan. 30.—Weakened by the loss of Randolph, due to sickness, Milton College dropped to Carroll College at Milton last night by the score of 49 to 20. The home team put up a valiant fight, but weight and speed proved too much for the team of the Waukesha five and their remarkable basket shooting, especially in the third quarter, when Carroll, making 14 baskets before giving way to a substitute. The majority of his baskets were pretty "volunteer" shots with one or more men hanging to him.

For Milton Babcock was the heaviest point-guard, caging six field goals and one free throw. Kakusko and Lanphere played good floor games, but the team lacked the speed shown last night when they beat Janesville 40 to 21.

The lineup:
Milton (20) Carroll (49)
Babcock Michler
Lanphere Christoph
Kakusko Christoph
Curtis Orvis
Field goals—Christoph, 1; Michler, 2; Christoph, 3; Akor, 2; Molke, 1; Babcock, 6; Lanphere, 1; Kakusko, 1.
Free throws—Orvis, 3; Lanphere, 3; Babcock, 2; Christoph, 1; Kakusko, 1; Orvis, 2; Kuranz, 2; Christoph, 1; Law, 1.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Wilde, Atom of Punch, Kayos Ertle in Third

Milwaukee, Jan. 30.—Jimmy Wilde, flyweight champion boxer of England, knocked out Mike Ertle, St. Paul, early in the third round of a scheduled ten round bout last night. The blow that stopped Ertle was a right hand blow to the jaw, which followed a straight left to the face.

The Briton appeared to much greater advantage tonight than he did a few weeks ago, when he met Jack Sharkey of New York and lost the newspaper decision.

Wilde was the first to land in the opening session. He popped away with right and left blows to the head and body at will. The round ended with Wilde having much the advantage. The Englishman waded in at a fast clip and the third session opened, offering rights and lefts to head and body without damaging either fighter. The first round of the St. Paul lad with a stiff right to the jaw. Ertle's hands dropped to his side and a second in he fell to the canvas and was counted out.

Wilde weighed 108½ pounds and Ertle 115 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

I'll say it takes a lot of nerve. I knew you had a fair amount. To wallop, jab and never swerve. Until you win or take the count. It takes a lot of sand, it's true. To meet a pugilistic gent. That's pretty near as good as you. And take his merry punishment. But this is what I'm getting at—That all takes nerve—now don't get sore—

But doesn't it take more than that? To fight at home when there's a war?

I know it takes a lot of crust. And coax a real emphatic bust. Right on the bean and everything. To have a roughneck black your lamp.

And stifle his knuckles on your nose. And try to give you grave-yard crumps.

And hell you into sweet repose. But listen, this is ten times worse! To face that Frog that did his bit. And if you win grab off that purple nerve, eh? Well you're a hog for it!

Some men are so afraid that people will forget that they were officers in the Great War, says ex-Sergt. SOL, that they are still wearing their identification bracelets so that their title will get into the papers when they are run over by a trolley car or something.

Manitowoc, Wis., Jan. 30.—The greatest bowling tournament in the history of the tenpin game opened here Thursday night at 8 o'clock, at the Recreation palace. When the first shift of ten teams, made up of city and county officials, got under way, President A. H. Schmidt of the Wisconsin State Bowling association made the opening address before a crowd of 500 fans.

R. J. Breckenridge, president of the Manitowoc Bowling association, presented a gold ball, the first to be rolled down the alleys. In the absence of George Viss, president of the Aluminum Goods company, which entered 85 of the 750 teams in the record breaking tourney, and who was slated to open the tourney, Judge Schmidt did the shell down alley 6 and the crowd went wild when every pin on the ten alleys was swept clean off the drives.

Secretary William Fenske of the Wisconsin Bowling association acted as official starter, and fired a gun as the following officials rolled the first ball down each of the ten alleys: City Attorney E. L. Kelley, City Clerk, Arthur Zander, President.
